

Brück is an internationally leading forgemaster, with worldwide 1.200 employees, that provides technically sound solutions, innovative products and creates additional value in mutual interest with our customers, resulting in being a preferred supplier within the oil, gas and (renewable-) energy sector, especially in relation to product engineering, ringrolling and forging.

For the Sales Engineer with strong commercial and technical background, we offer the following challenging position at our office in Echt (NL).

Sales Engineer Russian market

Job description:

As Sales Engineer Russian market you will be responsible for:

- Providing market information;
- Preparing quotations;
- Negotiating orders;
- Identifying, evaluating and developing Brück's business across the defined territory;
- Ensuring Brück's goals are met to further develop profitable sales;

Candidate requirements:

- Fluency in at least English and Russian;
- Minimally a Bachelors Degree of Mechanical Engineering;
- Familiar with the oil, gas, (petro-)chemicals and renewable energy industries;
- Minimum 5 years work experience in the required field;
- A teamplayer;
- Strong commercial capabilities and intensions, combined with technical background that assures understanding of the companies' product range and offerings;
- Strong customer focus and ability to Multi task under stressful circumstances;
- Ability to plan and organize your work in a continuously changing environment.

We offer:

- The unique possibility to be part of our World and increase your personal knowledge and skills level;
- Excellent primary and secondary conditions.

Interested?

Are you interested in the vacant position and do you match the profile? Please send your Curriculum Vitae and cover letter to jobru@bruck.nl. In case you would like to have additional information regarding the company or offered position, please visit our website www.bruck.nl or contact mr. P. Savelkoul , tel no. +31 475-486655